JOB TITLE

Your job title is Intern. The Company reserves the right to require you to carry out other duties on behalf of the Company and/or any Group Company associated with your function which is within your capabilities. The Company may from time to time change your manager, in which case you will be notified in advance. During your employment you will:

- Unless prevented by illness or accident or during an authorised absence, devote the whole of your time, attention and skill during normal working hours to the carrying out of your duties under this employment contract and will not engage in any activities which would conflict with the proper performance of your duties or with the business interests of the Company or any Group Company;

You may be required:

- To carry out your duties on a temporary or permanent basis from other locations as the needs of the business may reasonably dictate and upon receipt of reasonable notice
- To travel from time to time within and outside Ireland in the performance of your duties

NORMAL WORKING HOURS

The normal working hours are from 9.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m. Monday to Friday, during which times you will ordinarily attend your normal place of work or client's premises. Your position may however require you to work in excess of these hours from time to time, especially when deadlines have to be met.

You may be required to conduct assignments on behalf of the Company at a client's premises. When working in a client's office where working hours differ from those above you will vary your times to suit the client.

MINIMUM REST PERIODS

As part of your employment, and in accordance with the Organisation of Working Time Act, if you work more than 4.5 hours you will be entitled to a 15 minute rest break each day. If you work for more than six hours you will be entitled to a 30 minute rest break each day (which may be inclusive of the previous 15 minute break). As part of your employment you will also be entitled to a daily rest period of 11 consecutive hours in a 24 hour period and a weekly rest period of 24 consecutive hours per seven days, following a daily rest period. Should you fail to receive your breaks or rest periods you should notify Line Manager within one week and they will seek to ensure you are afforded this as soon as possible (Breaks over and above Minimum entitlements are specified in the 'Hours of Work' section).

PROBATIONARY PERIOD

Your appointment is subject to a 6 month probationary period, which may be extended at the Company's discretion, up to a maximum of 12 months.

IMMIGRATION

If you do not have an unrestricted right to work in Ireland, you are required to keep the Company updated with changes to your:

- residential address;
- contact telephone number;
- marital status; and,
- Irish immigration status.

This is to ensure that the Company meets its statutory and regulatory obligations of the Irish immigration system. Such changes must be reported within five working days of the change occurring. The Company may provide your personal data to the Irish Border Agency to enable it to fulfill our legal obligations.

Any changes in your immigration status during your period of stay in Ireland that may affect your immigration status in Ireland should be brought to the attention of the HR Department and/or line manager immediately but in any event no later than 3 (calendar) days from any change of status.

You agree that we may at any time contact the Irish Border Agency to verify that you have the right to live and work in Ireland, and we may request that you provide us with pertinent documentation regarding your right to work in Ireland.

PENSION PLAN & LIFE ASSURANCE

Details of the company sponsored pension membership scheme are available separately.

PRIVATE HEALTH INSURANCE

As a Company employee you are eligible for private medical insurance cover which is currently provided by VHI. Your eligibility and any benefits are subject to the rules of the scheme and the scheme provider from time to time in force. This benefit is discretionary, and the Company reserves the right in its absolute discretion to vary or amend the benefit provider and / or the level or type of cover for which you are eligible.

The benefits form and amount you are covered for are available separately.

EXPENSES

Approved travel and out of pocket expenses incurred in connection with your employment will be refunded in accordance with Company policy.

HOLIDAYS

The holiday year is calculated from 1 January to 31 December. Your annual entitlement for a complete working year is 27.5 days [pro rata this if part time], up to 3.5 days of which must be taken during the Christmas period on days nominated by the Company.

You must obtain the approval of your manager before booking leave. Your manager will consider the operational needs of the department before granting your request for leave.

If you do not take all of your holiday entitlement by the end of the holiday year, subject to authorisation by your manager, you will be permitted to carry up to 5 days to the following year, however these days must be taken by the end of April that year.

No payment will be made for holidays not taken except if you leave the Company's employment where outstanding leave will be paid for in lieu and any holidays taken in excess of your entitlement will be deducted from your final salary payment.

If the Company terminates your employment due to misconduct, such accrued but untaken holiday shall be based on your minimum statutory holiday entitlement only and not on your enhanced entitlement under your contract of employment. For these purposes any paid holiday that you have taken (including any paid holiday on public holidays) shall be deemed first to be statutory paid holiday.

PUBLIC HOLIDAYS

In addition to the annual holiday entitlement you are allowed the following public/bank holidays each year with pay or alternative days as decided by us:-

New Year's Day	The first Monday in August
St Patrick's Day	The last Monday in October
Easter Monday	Christmas Day
The first Monday in May	St Stephen's Day
The first Monday in June	Good Friday (Although not contractually obligated)

For full time workers there is no service requirement in respect of benefits for Public Holiday entitlements, for part time workers you must have worked 40 hours in the preceding five weeks to the Public Holiday to benefit from the Public Holiday entitlement. If you are not required to work on one of the above days, and it is a day you do not normally work, you will receive one fifth of your last normal weekly wage for that day. In the event of you working on one of the above days, or it is a day you are normally required to work, you will receive an additional days pay (equivalent to the hours worked on your last normal working day, immediately before the public holiday) or you will receive the appropriate time off in lieu, at our discretion. Time off in lieu is to be taken within one month of the time being accrued.

ABSENCE THROUGH SICKNESS

You are required to comply with the sickness notification requirements set out in the Attendance Management Policy which is available from HR or on PeopleHub. The Company operates a Sick Pay Scheme for authorised sickness absence. Company Sick Pay is payable, dependant on length of continuous service to the Company. Full details may be obtained from HR or from PeopleHub. For any unpaid sickness you will need to send your medical certificates to the Department of Social Welfare for them to pay any benefits due to you. A copy of these certificates must be provided to the Payroll department.

It is a condition of your employment that you will, when reasonably required by the Company submit to a medical examination by a Company nominated Doctor. In the event of your absence from work because of sickness for over 30 days you will, if requested, authorise your GP to report to the Company on your prospects of returning to work.

You will forfeit your entitlement to Company Sick Pay if:

- You refuse to attend a medical examination by a Company nominated Doctor
- You fail to comply with notification and certification requirements imposed by the Company from time to time
- You make or produce any misleading or untrue statement or document relating to your sickness

DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURE

Should you fail to meet the Company's standards of conduct or fail to observe the conditions laid down in this contract, the matter will be dealt with in accordance with the Company's Disciplinary Procedure. Full details of the Disciplinary Procedure may be obtained from HR or from PeopleHub.

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

If you have an individual problem arising from your employment, you should take the matter up with your manager or supervisor. If you remain dissatisfied, the Grievance Procedure explains what steps you can take to pursue the matter. Full details of the Grievance Procedure may be obtained from HR or from PeopleHub

NOTICE PERIOD AND TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT

During the probationary period your appointment may be terminated by either party giving 2 weeks' notice in writing. Thereafter one calendar months' written notice from either party will apply.

The Company reserves the right to ask you at its discretion not to attend work at any time following either party giving the other notice of termination or in the event of an investigation or disciplinary procedures. During any period that you are required not to attend work, you will continue to be employed by the Company and will continue to receive your normal pay and benefits under your contract of employment. In particular, if you give notice to terminate your employment, or if the Company gives you notice to terminate for any reason, you may be asked not to attend work during the notice period. In these circumstances, your employment will continue throughout your notice period and you will remain bound by all the terms of your contract of employment. You will thus not be entitled to perform any work for any other employer until your notice period has expired and your employment terminated.

On termination of your employment, the Company shall be entitled to pay you your basic salary in lieu of your entitlement to notice (or, if applicable, the remainder of the notice period). In making any payment in lieu of notice, the Company shall not be obliged to take into account any benefits or perquisites, which you would have been entitled to or might have received during the notice period if it had been worked. Any such payment in lieu will be subject to the regulations covering tax and social security contributions at the time of such termination of employment.

The Company may terminate your employment in writing immediately without prejudice to any rights or claims it may have against you if at any time:

- You are guilty of gross or serious misconduct, gross negligence or commit a material breach of your employment contract;
- You wilfully neglect to perform or prove to be incapable of properly performing your duties hereunder; or
- You cease to be permitted to work in Ireland.

Examples of gross misconduct are set out in the Company Performance, Disciplinary, Grievance and Mediation Policy.

The Company shall have the right to suspend you on full pay and benefits pending any investigation into potential dishonesty, gross misconduct or other circumstances which (if proved) would entitle the Company to dismiss you summarily. Any such suspension will last no longer than is necessary to carry out any inquiry or investigation into the circumstances and to hold any appropriate disciplinary hearings.

On the termination of your employment, howsoever arising:

- You are required to return to the Company all company property including any company car, company credit or charge cards, your security pass, all keys, computer hard and software including discs and all documents in whatever form (including notes and minutes of meetings, customer lists, diaries and address books, computer printouts, plans, projections) together with all copies (irrespective of by whom and in what circumstances such copies were made) which are in your possession or under your control. You further agree to delete any copies (whether electronic or paper) of any documents relating to the business of the Employer (or any Group Company) and not to retain any copies (in any format) of any such document.

After the termination of your employment you shall not make any untrue or misleading statement about the Company or any Group Company or its officials or employees or represent yourself as being employed by or connected with any such company.

DATA PROTECTION

By signing this employment contract you consent:

- To the Company holding and processing any information about you which you may provide to the Company or which it may acquire as a result of your employment providing such use is in accordance with the Data Protection Act 2003;

standards or, in the case of transfers to any Group Company outside the European Economic Area, subject to binding corporate rules once implemented;

- iv. To submit to further background checks which the Company may reasonably request from you. These may be the same checks which you agreed to on commencement of your employment, or, should business needs or legal or regulatory obligations mean that additional checks become advisable, further checks.

You will be obliged to reimburse the Company for all losses suffered by it in the event of the property being lost or damaged other than by fair wear and tear.

CODE OF CONDUCT

The Company expects that you will maintain the highest professional standards in the performance of your duties. This would include striving to enhance the image, reputation and business standing of the Company and not engaging in any activity, which would prejudice this standing. You will not attempt to register any Intellectual Property unless requested to do so by the Company.

You will keep confidential all Intellectual Property unless the Company has agreed in writing to its disclosure.

You will give all reasonable assistance to the Company in registering the Intellectual Property, enforcing the Company's rights in the Intellectual Property against a third party and defending claims for infringement of third party intellectual property rights.

On request by the Company, you will provide to the Company a signed written statement confirming that you have complied with your confidentiality obligations under this Contract of Employment.

The restrictions in this employment contract shall not (A) prevent any disclosure or use authorised by the Board of Directors of the Company or RELX Group plc or required by any applicable laws or regulations, including, without limitation, any disclosure required for patent purposes provided that you promptly notify the Company when any such disclosure requirement arises to enable the Company to take such action as it deems necessary, including, without limitation, to seek an appropriate protective order and/or make known to the appropriate government or regulatory authority or court the proprietary nature of the Confidential Information and make any applicable claim of confidentiality with respect hereto; (B) prevent you from using your own personal skill, experience and knowledge in any business in which you may be lawfully engaged after the employment under this Employment contract is ended; or (C) prevent you making a protected disclosure within the meaning of section 19 of the Criminal Justice Act 2011 or any similar statutory provision in force in Ireland from time to time.

Applicable to All Restrictive Covenants

Following the termination of your employment, you will not represent yourself as being employed by or associated with the Company or any Group Company at any time.

Each of the restrictions above shall be enforceable independently of each of the others and each restriction's validity shall not be affected if any of the others is invalid. If any of these restrictions is judged void but would be valid if some part of the restriction were deleted, the restriction in question shall apply with such modification as may be necessary to make it valid and effective.

If, in the aforementioned annual report, there is no “Risk Solutions” segment, then “LexisNexis Risk Solutions Companies” means the Company and those Company Affiliates (and their respective component divisions or other business units) whose financial performance is reported as part of the segment in the annual report which includes businesses focused on services or products that assist customers in evaluating, predicting, or managing risk or improving operational effectiveness. For the avoidance of doubt, with respect to the segments described in either of the first two sentences of this paragraph, the term “LexisNexis Risk Solutions Companies” also includes any entity acquired by the Company or any of its Group Companies in the year in which the Termination Date occurs and whose financial performance will be included in any such segment of the annual report for the year in which the Termination Date occurs.

More than one such transfer may be made. No damages or other compensation will be payable by reason of such transfer.

If you have been offered but unreasonably refused or unreasonably failed to agree to the transfer of this Employment contract by way of substitution of a new obligation for the one existing to a company which (as a result of a re-organisation, amalgamation or reconstruction) shall have acquired or agreed to acquire the whole or substantially the whole or not less than 90 per cent of the equity share capital of the Company you shall have no claim against the Company in respect of the termination of your employment hereunder by reason of the subsequent voluntary winding up of the Company or of the disclaimer or termination of this Employment contract by the Company within three months after such unreasonable refusal or unreasonable failure to agree.
